Iris in the Community: Booking Form

Background:

Iris in the Community is funded by the Big Lottery Fund to undertake a series of new and exciting projects. Each project will include the production of a short film and the production of a film festival. Projects will take place across Wales to promote equality and diversity alongside community cohesion.

The aims and objectives for the Iris in the Community project are:

- Bring LGBT issues and experiences to a wider audience and engage our colleagues and fellow citizens in the conversation about equality and diversity;
- Develop critical appraisal and programming skills;
- Develop project management skills;
- Develop event management skills.

Participants in Session ONE will be encouraged to consider their position with regard to LGBT equality and issues of equality by making a filmed response to a short film.

In Session TWO participants will view a short film package from the Iris Prize archive, and then choose a sub-set to present to their peers, along with the film made during Session ONE, which will be screened at the mini film festival. The group will be encouraged to think critically about the work they view, how they might market it and how it can stimulate debate and discussion amongst their peer group.

In Session THREE the participants will organise, market, evaluate and produce a mini-film festival for their wider group where they will be responsible for introducing and contextualising the chosen works, including their film in the first phase. During the evaluation, participants will be asked to consider if, and how, their activities have challenged perceptions and misconceptions about LGBT equality and to assess the impact of their participation in the project.
